The next few months in PVD are full of shows featuring great local acts. Each year, spring seems to be a teaser for the major tours that come through the city in the summer. This year is no different and most venues are hosting some of the local favorites.

On April 29, AS220 is hosting one killer show with locals from all over Rhode Island. Empty Vessels is a longtime favorite in PVD along with I Am Become Death, Worst Days and Implosion Crusade. Each band takes noise to a whole new level, leaving their audience always expecting something crazy and different each time.

Leading up to the month of June, Gideon will be taking the stage at Firehouse 13 on May 24. Although they aren't exactly punk or hardcore, they put on a great performance and are definitely worth a listen.

With the summer being right at the tip of our finger tips, we are in for some great shows come June and July! Keep your eyes peeled for upcoming tours from big acts and all the locals.
