

Poor Paul screens in RI: State stands in for rest of world

Years in the making, this madcap indie comedy, directed by Sean Michael Beyer, was shot in RI during the pandemic. They chose RI because of the diverse locations close to each other, and the state ended up standing in for nations around the world, including Italy (Venice, of course), Germany, France, England and Frankenstein's castle.

Catch the red carpet premiere on Sun, Mar 5, 4pm at the Lincoln Cinemas (which used to be CinemaWorld), in the Lincoln Mall, 622 George Washington Hwy, Lincoln, RI.

We talked with cast and crew while they were shooting - read about it here soon!
